1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claim 1, in a method for welding first and second parts together, the prior art does not teach or make obvious the concept of moving the holder toward the spindle to bring the second part into frictional contact with the first part, then decreasing the speed of rotation of the spindle and mounted first art and simultaneously moving the holder towards the spindle, and stopping rotation of the spindle and mounted first part at a specific angular orientation of the first part relating to the second part in the manner claimed by the applicant.

Regarding claim 9, in a method for welding first and second parts together, the prior art does not teach or make obvious the concept of calculating a set of weld parameters used to control the friction welding machine, the set of welding parameters including a desired spindle speed and a desired spindle position, comparing the measurement with at least one of the desired spindle speed and desired spindle position and adjusting at least one of the actual spindle speed or the actual spindle position so that the actual spindle position is substantially similar to the desired spindle position in the manner claimed by the applicant.

Regarding claim 22, in an apparatus for controlling a friction welding machine, the prior art does not teach or make obvious the concept of the computing device being programmed to receive a status signal from the position sensor indicative of an actual spindle position at a specific time point and to compare the actual spindle position to the desired spindle position calculated from the set of input parameters at the specific time point and to cause the motion controller to deliver a difference signal to make any necessary corrections to the rotational speed in the manner claimed by the applicant.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
